Many a man plays "scrub" baseball while his wife does the washing.

A whole lot of trouble in this world is due to love and a whole lot more friendship.

If a man man is wise he will more out of the neighborhood instead of trying to live it down.

"The backwaters have no boys that I've covered with scars from the back of my head to my heels."—Billy Sunday.

One man said yesterday that we will be living in caves and eating roots before the snow flies. There must be something wrong with this fellow.

"Another big town taken by General Bolha," reads a newspaper heading. He's some fighting premier that man Bolha in South Africa.

Upon reading an advertisement in an eastern paper for an experienced married man, one of the editors of a western daily was moved to say there was no such a bird.

When you stop suddenly in your rush to or from home to watch a youngster slam a baseball into the padded mitt of another kid, it's a sure sign that you're hitting the nerve. "Batter up!"

This advertisement recently appeared in a western paper. "Wanted—A man to undertake the sale of a new patent medicine. The advertiser guarantees that it will be profitable to the undertaker."

Did you hear about the foreigner who applied in Maceled for naturalization papers and filled in the three main questions this way: NAME—Jacob Levinsky. BORN—Yes. BCS INESS—Rotten.

The bigger a town grows, the more valuable do the adjacent farms become. Farmers should patronize their home towns, and thus increase their own income.

the consuming population and the market for their own products.

We observe from a fashion paper that this season's skirts are to be very full 'round the bottom. That's the way we like to see them.

The Commercial Travellers have been instrumental in getting the provincial government license department to issue an edict to all hotel proprietors to have reports attached to all welcome-as-for-responses. They might come in handy for other purposes. No offense, boys, no offense.

It is related that a local lady phoned up "Phil", the arbiter and police meet out at D. P. William's meat market, one day this week and asked him, "If they laid any dry salt fish?" He replied, "Oh, yes, and they are very nice." The lady then asked him if he would kindly give them a drink.

As a rule enemies are the people who do not understand us. Sometimes they are people that we move, and this will hurt them. Other times we prod their crooked ways, fool ideas and make them sit up and take notice. We have made more enemies by telling the truth than in any other way, for the truth always hurts worse than a lie.

We never blame the tailor when our pants we have to pin. We never blame the shoe man when our soles grow old and thin. We never blame the better when our lids we have to float. But we always blame the laundry when our shirts wear out.

One after another of the suggestions made and policies advocated by The Financial Post have been adopted. The reason is very simple. The Post merely condenses and presents the important views of its readers, who are the most influential class in Canada, ready to make the greatest sacrifices for their country and to apply with honesty of purpose their ability and to the solution of national problems.

A new standard in Canadian politics has been set this week. Since Conservative party leaders have tacitly ceased to act as a form of social evil which could not be prevented. Heedless regard and demanded it as a recompense for services rendered. In consequence millions of dollars of national money have gone in this way to grafters and farm today part of our National Debt.

The Colonial Secretary officially announces that Canada will be consulted on the terms under which the war will be settled. The Financial Post urged this demand upon the Canadian Government in October last, for which it was rebuked and abused by several Conservative papers. One ultra-local daily hinted that it was to make such a demand bordered on treason—Financial Post.

A hurried investigation by a Parliamentary Committee shows that voters have voted a harvest for Conservative middlemen and thieves and grafters. Millions more will pass into their pockets, to be added to our debt and paid off by the rest of us in increased taxes. In one case alone of Canadian manufacturer paid a Canadian dealer over $75,000 before he was able to get an order for goods in urgent demand. This amount was added to the cost to the Government.

Possibly the worst feature or result of such a condition, hitherto regarded as a necessary evil in national affairs, is that the example has affected and is reflected in every day business. Every one of us is being heavily taxed to pay the principal and interest of the millions that have gone into the pockets of grafters, some of whom are today living in luxury on the revenue from money thus secured.

BUTTER WRAPPERS

Must Be Printed or Branded According to New Dairy Act

AN Official of the Dominion Department of Agriculture visited Edmonton recently and stated that it was the intention of the department to enforce strictly the act regarding the branding of Dairy Butter which was passed last year. From now on anyone selling Dairy Butter in Blocks, Squares or Prints and wrapped in Parchment, must have "DAIRY BUTTER" clearly marked on the Package or be liable to a Fine.

It is better defined as Butter manufactured in a place where the Milk or Cream of less than fifty cows is manufactured into butter. The underlying principal is protection to the Consumer, the Honest Manufacturer, and the Honest Trader.

In passing we might state, to convince the Public of our facilities for printing Butter Wrappers, we

Red and Gun for Mary, published by W. J. Taylor, Limited, Woodstock, Ont., is out with an interesting list of contents. Edward T. Martin contributes an article "Have the Pigeons Returned" dealing with the possible recurrence of the passenger pigeon, which has been pronounced extinct by as great an authority as Prof. Hornaday of New York. "A Ram of the Stormy" is a Western story of a man whom a [?] regard as a creature of the evil one. How its propensity for vanishing into thin air was finally explained and the man secured is most interestingly related by Ray Gidycz. Other stories and the regular departments combine to make an exceptionally interesting number of this well known sportsman's magazine.

PAID TO GET THE GOODS.

Consequently He Paid That They Were His by Right.

A little more made on the explorer Cameron in the neighborhood of Gabon, Africa, shows the widely popular workings of the native African mind. Some of Cameron's possessions found widely attractive to a native, and he determined on transferring the ownership to himself. He accordingly told another native $200 to procure for him the coveted goods.

The assistant took the money and did his best to carry it, but Mr. Cameron and persistent looked up the very articles that the fellow's employer had given him. The man could not carry out his bargain, and neither did he feel that he could part with the money of which it was his.

What more logical than that the man who was the loser by $200 should expect the explorer to make the loss good? This he assuredly did expect. He went to Mr. Cameron and told him the story, demanding in the very place the $200 which he (Cameron) by looking up his goods had compelled the complainant to lose and, secondly, the actual price of the goods themselves, which had been in his possession. It is not stated that his expectations were realized.—London Spectator.

Enigmata.

"Little girl, did you ask your mother, as I told you, to lend me some eggs for my cake?"
"Yes," and she said she hadn't as eggs to lend, but she'd give you a bun."

Man and His Doctor.

The day is coming, What day? The day when we shall last the doctor annually to keep us well instead of being sick. These are the days we are not sick to make us well.
